Sammy won the White Sox' starting rightfield job in spring training of 1990. From the White Sox' standpoint, he was the key player in the big trade with Texas July 29, 1989 that sent longtime Chisox favorite Harold Baines to the Rangers. In 1988, Sammy led the Florida State League in triples and was fifth in runs at Port Charlotte. Sammy was 16 years old when he signed with Texas in 1985.
